1- LinkedIn article about >> Middleware – Kestrel
2- Make all crud operation for Course. Add server-side validation in Post actions ,, Client side-validation in add and edit forms.
3- Need to design a view that shows the name of student, name of course, the degree of this student in this course colored with green if the student passed the course and red if failed.
   >> design the action that takes the id of student and id of course >> no conditions in view 4- Three use cases we need asynchronous programming 5- What is the difference between thread and task .
6- What is the new features in .net 9 to make operations on Generic type 7- What is delegate built_in types in details